Priced from the high $700,000s, homes provide 2,850 to 4,700 square feet of air-conditioned living space. Morse recently relocated to Wellington View from Toll Brothers'

Frenchman's Reserve community, where she had held a similar sales position for 2½ years. She brings eight years of experience in the real estate industry to her current position.

Toll Brothers Project Manager Fred Pfister said, "Mallory is a highly motivated sales executive with a successful and varied career, blending sales and management. Her background reflects superior accomplishments in customer-driven organizations."

Said Morse: "I joined Toll Brothers and have remained with the company because of its excellent reputation. Buyers want peace of mind, knowing they are working with an established builder that stands behind what it delivers."

Born and raised in New York, Morse attended Boston University and launched her career in automotive sales. This was followed by nine years as the founder/president of a model-scouting and -placement company in New York.

Before joining Toll Brothers and relocating to South Florida, she spent three years as a residential real estate sales and rental agent, also in the New York area.

Now a North Palm Beach resident, Morse said that what she likes most about Florida is the weather. As for her real estate job, she said, "I enjoy working with people and helping them fulfill their dreams. And at Wellington View, I am in contact with singles, young couples, families and empty-nesters, because the community has such a broad appeal."

Wellington View is north of Forest Hill Boulevard on the Lyons Road extension.

The sales center and models are open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

To visit, take Florida's Turnpike to Southern Boulevard (Exit 97). Go west one mile to Lyons Road/Sansbury's Way/Ranch Road and turn left. Proceed south one mile to the entrance on the right.
